Gladioli Towers of Dramatic Colour

Highly sought after for their impressive pointed stems with attractive, stately flowers in a huge array of colours.

These regal, flowering swords have been staples of the cut-flower industry for years.

Plant at fortnightly intervals for prolonged summer flowering. H 90-110cm

Hot tip: If you live in an area where rust is prevalent then drench the soil with a copper solution at planting time and spray as soon as any rust appears.

Patio Potatoes

Nothing beats that freshly dug, fresh taste of your own home-grown potatoes! But if you don't have the area or ability to grow them in the garden, then the answer is right here. Here are small quantities of seed potatoes to grow in easy to manage planter bags – everyone can do it. Potatoes grown in bags are less likely to get pests and diseases and you will have your first crop by Christmas. Just choose the variety and number according to your space and get growing right now. You can buy the potatoes on their own or kit yourself up with bags and fertiliser to complete the job. Just partly fill the bag with potting mix, plant 3 potatoes per bag and then, when shoots emerge, gradually fill the bag to the top. Full instructions are provided.
